

Minor edits to the EMSA Module documents

Readers are advised that all modules of the Ecological Field Monitoring Protocols Manual regularly undergo revision. Readers should check the website tern.org.au/emsa-protocols-manual to ensure they are viewing the current version.

All significant edits made to the EMSA Modules are documented in the version control (page 3 of all documents). Such edits include improvements to clarity, instructions, references, data fields, workflows, and diagrams. Version updates are indicated by the version number and the date displayed on the inside cover page under the version title.

Insignificant edits, such as corrections to typographical errors or formatting, are not listed as version updates but are listed in the table below.
